MEYERS NAMED AS OWNER OF AVIATION FIRM

Had Name Crossed Out of Company Records, Former Associate Says.

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17—B. H. Lamarre, president of Aviation Electric company of Dayton, O., testified today that although his salary in 1941 was carried on the company's books at about $31,000, approximately $28,000 of this sum was paid to Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17—B. H. Lamarre, president of the Aviation Electric Co. of Dayton, O., said today Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers put up all the money to organize the firm but that his name was later crossed out of the records.

Lamarre testified before the senate war investigating committee which heard last week that the Dayton concern received over a million dollars worth of war business.

Lawrence D. Bell, president of the Bell Aircraft Corp., said he sent $1,053,000 worth of subcontracts to Aviation Electric at Meyers' suggestion.

Meyers, now retired from the Army was deputy chief of air force procurement (purchasing) during the war.

The senate committee is inquiring into his activities in that post.

LaMarre said he removed Meyers' name from the articles of incorporation at Meyers' direction.

He had testified earlier that he was brought into the company to "protect" Meyers' financial interest in the company.

Boosted from $35 Job

Lamarre said he had a $35 a week job and his wife was secretary to Meyers when the Army officer gave him the job with the Dayton concern.

Lamarre said he thought it was some time in 1943 that he removed Meyers' name from the firm's records

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) wanted to know whether Meyers explained why he wanted his name removed.

"I don't recall that he told me exactly why," Lamarre said, "but I had gained the impression from him that in his position in the Army he could not afford to be connected with any company."

Lamarre testified Meyers put up the $500 for the original capital investment, although the 500 shares of stock were not issued in his name, and that he later paid bills approximating $6,000 and received six per cent demand notes in return.

He said further that Meyers made the original entries in the firm's books at his home at Wright Field, Dayton in Lamarre's presence.

Committee Counsel William P. Rogers asked him: "There was no doubt the he (Meyers) was the boss and he owned all the stock?"

"That is right," Lamarre said.

The firm was organized in late 1939.

Letter Again Mentioned

Before calling Lamarre to its witness chair, the committee raised briefly again the fact the war department received an anonymous letter in 1945 accusing Meyers of profiting personally from knowledge of what firms were to receive air force contracts.

Col. Jacob E. Smart, whose initials were on the notation to put the letter in the files, testified he had no recollection of ever seeing it.

Lamarre, who is 35 years old, told the committee that after graduating from Miami university in Ohio in 1935, he went to work for the Delco Brake division of General Motors, Dayton. He said he was making 55 cents an hour when he left that concern in 1939.

Next, he testified, he got a job with Goodyear Service and was receiving a salary of $125 a month when he left.

Lamarre said he first met Meyers some time in 1937 while his wife was working as secretary to the general.

Posse Corners 2 Men Wanted in Rape, Murder

Sheriff Calls for Reinforcements as Isolated Farmhouse Is Surrounded.

NEILLSVILLE, Wis., Nov. 17—The Clark county sheriff's office said today that two ex-convicts sought on the story of rape and murder told by a University of Michigan co-ed from Ohio had been cornered in an isolated farmhouse by a posse which had called for additional arms and men.

Sheriff Ray Kutsche, tipped by an informant, left with about a dozen deputies at 5.30 a. m. today for the farmhouse, which is 24 miles northwest of this city in the heavily wooded Clark county back-country.

His office said he determined the pair was in the house and armed. His office also said he had asked for FBI forces and for help from other law enorcement officers. Chippewa County Sheriff Ray Thronson left immediately with a force of deputies.

Dane County District Attorney Edwin Wilkie identified the two as Buford Sennett, 22, of Richland Center, and Robert Winslow, 23, of Owen, and added a general alarm had been transmitted for their arrest. He said both were former inmates of the state reformatory and Winslow also served a year in state prison for escape from the reformatory.

Probably an Stolen Car

A car was stolen from a farm yard at Yuba, Wis., Saturday night and Marshall said the youths may have taken it after abandoning their blood-stained car near Hillsboro.

Personal papers of one of the youths were found in the abandoned car which also contained some of the coed's clothing. No warrant as yet has been issued for the youths, who were identified through photographs.

Wilkie said the girl, Janet Ann Rosenblatt of Cleveland Heights, O., told the following story:

She came to Madison to see the Wisconsin-Michigan football game and Friday night she and her brother-in-law, Carl L. Carlson, 25, of Superior, Wis., started to hitchhike to his home at Badger Village, university housing center, about 35 miles northwest of Madison.

Two men offered them a lift and while they were riding one of them shot Carlson. While he lay dead in the car, both men raped her. They drove around for 11 hours and the girl said she believed they threw Carlson's body in the Blue river. She escaped from the men when the car stalled on a hill near Hillsboro.

CINCINNATI TRUCK DRIVERS ON STRIKE

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 17—Approximately 2,700 members of the Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers Union, AFL, went on strike here this morning, a spokesman of Local 100 of the organiation, announced.

Others will join the work stoppage in a demand for increase pay as the day progresses, he said, with about 3,600 ultimately being idle.

J. Edward Fixari, chairman of the Cincinnati Motor Transportation Club's labor committee and spokesman for some 400 trucking firms, declared, trucking in the Greater Cincinnati area is "97 per cent frozen."

He added, however, that operators and officials of the union will meet later today to consider a contract proposed by Local 100 "and discuss other methods leading to a quick end of the strike."

Local President George Starling said the strike was to enforce demands for 30 cents an hour wage increase. The action was taken, he said, after the trucking firm operators' offers of a 20-cent increase to draymen and inter-city drivers and a 14-cent boost to dump truck operators were rejected.

Draymen and inter-city drivers got $1 and dump truck men $1.04 an hour under the contract which expired Saturday, Starling said.

Then, last last night Jack McCann, business agent of Local 661 announced the warehousemen would participate in the strike. McCann said his local had asked 35 cents an hour increase but offers from individual warehouse companies ranged only from seven to 12 cents.

VISHINSKY SAYS U. S. WANTS SOVIET WAR

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 17—Andrei Y. Vishinsky says he has observed a "frenzied" upsurge of opinion favoring war with Russia, and that American policies in Germany apparently are aimed at "preserving the remnants of fascism" so that Germany "can be directed against Russia."

The Soviet deputy foreign minister and chief Russian delegate to the United Nations, addressing a dinner given by the National Council of Soviet-American Friendship last night, renewed his "war-mongering" charges, and declared:

"I have been here for two and a half months and I saw with my own eyes and heard with my own ears that there is a frenzied ideological upsurge of public opinion in favor of war with the Soviet Union.

"Under such conditions and activities, the work of the council of American-Soviet friendship become even more significant."

Discussing his charge that American policy seems to be directed toward pitting Germany against Russia, Vishinsky said John Foster Dulles, U. S. delegate to the UN assembly, was referring to this when he told the assembly recently that the United States would not "retreat to Potsdam."

Dulles and Britain's Winston Churchill were named by Vishinsky among those he said attempted to destroy the new-born Soviet state after World War I. Vishinsky also included France's Gen. Charles De Gaulle in his criticism, declaring:

"We remember this very well, the more so that now De Gaulle urges an alliance or crusade of the United States, Great Britain and France against the Soviet Union."

7 U. S. SOLDIERS INJURED IN BLAST

By The Associated Press

IKEGO, Japan, Nov. 17—Seven big warehouses packed with ammunition exploded at the U. S. Eighth Army supply base here today, sending flames and shrapnel high into the air.

The fire, which broke out at mid-morning, raged out of control tonight. Cause of the blast was not determined immediately.

At nearby Yohohama, U. S. Eighth Army headquarters reported later tonight seven Americans and four Japanese were injured, one seriously. Most were nicked by flying shrapnel. One of the Americans was hurt seriously when the ambulance he was driving plunged off a 25-foot embankment. The injured included an American Army captain, Stanford R. Hicks, Philadelphia.

Some 200 personnel, including 90 Americans, are attached to the dump, which is 35 miles southwest of Tokyo. There are approximately 35 warehouses in the dump area. It covers 10 square miles. Eighteen caves also hold ammunition.

BUTTER PRICE RISES

CINCINNATI, NOV. 17—Butter went up three cents to 80 cents a pound in Cincinnati today, and industry spokesmen said the increase reflected a similar boost on the pace-setting Chicago and New York markets.

MAN SLUGGED AND ROBBED AT TAVERN

Allen Whitsel Victim of Attack South of City.

Allen Whitsel, 26, an employe of the City Ice and Fuel Co. living in the Milner Hotel, was slugged and robbed at about 11 p. m. yesterday as he was leaving the Welcome Inn, a tavern on route 4 south of Marion.

Whitsel said he was knocked out by an unseen assailant and when he regained consciousness he found his wallet and $40 or $50 missing.

In a semi-conscious condition for almost two hours, Whitsel was taken to the City hospital in a Boyd and Uncapher ambulance where he was treated and released.

He said he had told several friends in the tavern that he was leaving and suspects that his assailant overheard and followed him outside hoping to rob him. Whitsel said he didn't have any idea who or how many people struck him.

He said $40 or $50 in small bills in his wallet made an impressive bulge and that the robber probably thought he had more money.

Sheriff LeRoy Retterer was investigating the robbery today. A suspect has a police record and a picture of him was identified by Whitsel as that of a man he had seen at the tavern.

So far in the sheriff's investigation, no one has reported witnessing the slugging.

ITALY IN STATE OF NEAR REVOLUTION

By The United Press

ROME, Nov. 17—Pietro Castiglia, a Uomo Qualunque party deputy, charged in parliament today that the Communists would "attempt a coup d'etat in Italy," and demanded to know what Premier Alcide de Gasperi's government intended to do about it.

His question was promptly squelched. But the Communists had openly announced that they were trying to overthrow De Gasperi as a symbol of American aid, and were expected to step up their campaign of riot, violence and death to that end. In 13 days, it has touched every city and town of any size in Italy.

It already had come dangerously near revolution. The fear that the Communists might be ready for a new phase of their campaign was enhanced yesterday by the second mysterious explosion in two days in ammunition dumps near Milan.

Milan was the focal point of the violence. The explosion at Vigevano, 12 miles southwest of Milan, killed two soldiers, injured a number of other soldiers and civilians and was believed to have killed several others. Three days before, there was a mysterious explosion in a dump at Tesorella, 20 miles east of Milan.

RATIONING POWER ALSO IN PROGRAM AIMED AT INFLATION

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 — President Truman today asked congress to attack inflation by giving him the authority to impose ceilings on wages and prices, and to revive consumer rationing if necessary.

Mr. Truman's domestic anti-inflation program contained 10 basic points on which he asked immediate action by congress. But he said the government would use the powers only if conditions become more acute.

The President asked for the authority to put price ceilings only on selective cost-of-living items such as food, clothing, fuel and rent.

He asked for rationing authority over the same items as "a preparedness measure . . . on a highly selective basis."

Then he pointed out that if the government imposed price ceilings, "in all fairness" it should have the right to prevent wage increases.

Mr. Truman also asked for continued export controls, rent controls and allocation of transportation facilities. He proposed restoring installment buying regulations and regulating speculation on commodity exchanges. He asked for authority to allocate key scarce commodities.

European Stop-Gap Aid Asked

Mr. Truman coupled his call for a stringent anti-inflation action with a formal request for $597,000,000 of stop-gap aid to Europe during the next 4½ months. This request had been outlined previously by administration spokesmen.

Mr. Truman appeared in person before a joint session of the house and senate in the house chamber. It was his fifth appearance before congress since he became president April 12, 1945.

House and senate convened separately at noon to start the emergency session. They then gathered together in the house chamber to hear Mr. Truman. The speech was broadcast by all major radio networks and was televised.

In an unusual ceremony, the house opened its session by repeating the Lord's Prayer at request of Rev. James Shera Montgomery, house chaplain.

10-Point Program

Mr. Truman's 10-point "immediate anti-inflation program."

"1. To restore consumer credit controls and to restrain the creation of inflationary bank credit.

"2. To authorize the regulation of speculative trading on the commodity exchanges.

"3. To extend and strengthen export controls.

"4. To extend authority to allocate transportation facilities and equipment.

"5. To authorize measures which will induce the marketing of livestock and poultry at weights and grades that represent the most efficient utilization of grains.

"6. To enable the departmen of agriculture to expand its program of encouraging conservation practices in this country, and to authorize measures designed to increase the production of foods in foreign countries.

"7. To authorize allocation and inventory control of scarce commodities which basically affect the cost of living or industrial production.

"8. To extend and strengthen rent control.

"9. To authorize consumer rationing on products in short supply which basically affect the cost of living.

"10. To authorize price ceilings on products in short supply which basically affect the cost of living or industrial production, and to authorize such wage ceilings as are essential to maintaining the necessary price ceilings."

Thus the President asked for the return of virtually all the government's wartime economic controls, but promised that these controls would be used only if it becomes necessary.

"All the actions I have described are essential to a fair and effective anti-inflation program," the President said.

"I look upon them as short-run insurance against the impairment of our prosperity and the threat to our future development."

Says Inflation Alarming

Mr. Truman said that inflation has already reached "an alarming degree" at home and "is getting worse." He said he realized that some of his proposals were drastic.

"But if we face the facts squarely, it is apparent that no other methods can safely be counted upon to protect our people from the dangers of excessively high prices and ruinous inflation."

The President, who will submit his recommendations for a long-range European recovery program in a later message, urged the adoption of the stop-gap program to give the people of western Europe the strength to maintain their independence.

He hooked up this country's ability to aid Europe to the fight against inflation at home, stating that high prices threaten the entire foreign assistance program.

He said the foreign aid could not be abandoned, nor could the American people be abandoned to inflation.

Then he outlined in detail the 10 points on which he wants speedy legislation.

Some Not Necessary

In justifying his request for price controls, the President said he did not think ceilings would be necessary for staple foods or clothing items not in short supply.

"This elective treatment of a relatively few danger spots is very different from overall wartime controls," he said.

He thought that fair distribution of scarce things could be accomplished "without consumer rationing," for at least a while.

"But no one can foretell exactly how serious some shortages may become next year," he added. Presumably he had in mind, for one thing, the possibility of a wheat crop failure next year.

"With serious shortages, a free market works cruel hardships on countless families and puts an un-

CONGRESS POLITICAL LINES UNCHANGED

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17—The political complexion of congress as it meets in special session today remains unchanged from the last regular session despite a series of special elections held during the summer and fall.

Four Republicans and three Democrats have recently been elected to the house. One new senator—John C. Stennis, a Democrat—has been elected to succeed the late Theodore G. Bilbo, D., Miss.

As congress convenes under the summons of President Truman to consider foreign aid and price programs, the Republicans retain a large working majority in the house. In the senate, the margin is not so pronounced.

In the house the G.O.P. has 244 members, compared with 188 for the Democrats and one—Rep. Vito Marcantonio of New York—for the American Labor party. There still are two vacancies remaining to be filled in the house.

In the senate, the Republicans hold 51 seats, the Democrats 45.

The swearing in of Stennis to succeed Bilbo will mark the first time in the 80th congress that a full 96 votes can be mustered in the senate. Bilbo's credentials to serve in the 80th congress never were accepted by the senate, despite his election by Mississippi's voters

New Nash on Display at Drumm Agency

HERE IS NASH FOUR-DOOR SEDAN FOR 1948

The new cars Nash models for 1948 are being introduced this week in dealer showrooms throughout the nation. Both the Ambassador and "600" lines are characterized by changes in exterior and interior design providing more luxurious appearance. The E. E. Drumm Nash Sales on North Main street is showing a new four-door "600" model.

To avoid interrupting Nash production schedules, styling changes entailing new tools and dies were held to a minimum, according to H. C. Doss, vice president and general sales manager.

In its 1948 "600" series, Nash includes a new deluxe business coupe. Nash also has added to its medium and low-priced cars a new line of special "custom interiors" incorporating interior styling, color treatments and upholstery refinements formerly available only in custom-built automobiles.

Mechanical changes include advanced cushion mounting of engines, better cooling and lubrication and new larger low-pressure super-cushion tires. Nash is offering the new tire recently pioneered by Goodyear as standard equipment on all 1948 models.

The new cars include three different body types in the medium-priced Nash Ambassador series and four types in the lower-priced Nash "600" series.

Factory delivered prices of the new cars range from $1,399.05 for the "600" series deluxe business coupe to $1,820.95 for the "super" Ambassador series.

Body styles of the Ambassador series include a four-door trunk sedan, a six-passenger brougham and a four-door "slipstream" sedan. Similar body styles are available in the Nash "600" series to which has been added the new deluxe business coupe.

An exclusive feature of the 1948 Nash line of cars is its famous "Weather Eye," a built-in conditioned air ventilating system which filters and dries the air before it enters the car. In the summer the Nash "Weather Eye" provides abundant ventilation without insects, dust or rain entering the car. In the winter, a thermostat automatically controls the temperature of the air.

The Nash Ambassador has a six-cylinder valve-in-head engine with 3⅜-inch bore and 4⅜ stroke. It is rated at 112 horsepower developed at 3,400 R.P.M.

The Nash "600" has a six-cylinder, L-head engine with exclusive sealed-in intake manifolds. Its bore is 3⅛ inches and stroke 3¾ inches; displacement 172.6 cubic inches; developed horsepower 82 at 3,800 R.P.M.

"PERFECT LANDLORD" TELLS HOW TO PLEASE

By International News Service

CLEVELAND, Nov. 17—The formula for making tennants love you was outlined today by Mayor I. Blum of Philadelphia, dubbed the world's perfect landlord.

Addressing the National Apartment Owners association convention in Cleveland, Blum advised:

"Spare no efforts to shower personal attention on tenants, but use automatons to operate your buildings wherever possible."

Blum follows his own credo by sending flowers to his tenants on wedding anniversaries and in return gets verbal bouquets for himself.

Operating the second largest apartment building of its kind in the world, Blum maintains "mother-in-law suites" set aside for unexpected guests, an automatic controlled boiler room, and many special services.

Blum said that 20 years of harmonious relationship with his tenants paid off recently when 311 of his 320 tenants signed leases immediately when the government permitted a 15 per cent rent increase.

Your Good Health

Precautions To Take After Operation

A patient who has once undergone an operation for the removal of kidney stones wants, above all things else, some method to prevent other stones from forming.

While we do not know the exact cause of the formation of the stones in the first place, there are certain precautions which can be taken to guard against their recurrence. These things include regulation of the diet according to the make-up of the stone removed, the elimination of all infection, and X-ray examination every three months. Each day the acidity of the urine is determined and, from time to time, the amount of calcium or lime eliminated in the urine is tested.

Many physicians believe that, in the majority of those with kidney stones, there is a deficiency of vitamin A. Hence, those patients who have had kidney stones are given vitamin A in large amounts.

Infections may be present in the teeth, tonsils, or in the prostate gland and, if any are found, they should be eliminated.

Many germs which are present in infections of the urinary tract have the ability to break up the urea which is present in the urine into ammonia an carbon dioxide. This process favors the formation of phosphates which do not dissolve in the body, and these phosphates may form into kidney stones. Hence, if the patient has a urinary tract infection, the type of germs causing it should be determined, and then the proper measures taken to eliminate these organisms.

In six out of every ten patients with kidney stones, an increased amount of calcium in the urine has been noted. When the kidney stones are made up of calcium salts, the amount of calcium excreted in the urine may be lessened by using a diet which is acid-ash forming, by giving vitamin D and by varying the dietary intake of calcium and phosphorus.

Excessive amounts of phosphates in the urine may be due to using a diet, which is alkaline-ash-forming, for too long a period of time.

Patients who have had kidney stones should make sure that they drink large amounts of fluids. The acid-ash diet should be used when the stones are made up of carbonates and phosphates, and the alkaline-ash diet when the stones are made up of cystine, xanthine and uric acid.

I have outlined alkaline-ash and acid-ash diets which I shall be glad to forward to those who care to send for them, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Names will not be used. Of course, such a diet should be employed only under the direction of a physician.

LABOR-MANAGEMENT TOPS C. OF C. AGENDA

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 17—Ways of improving labor-management relations today were listed high on the agenda of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce's annual two-day meeting, opening here Wednesday.

Executive Vice President Herschel C. Atkinson said three leading labor relations experts, including Rep. Fred J. Hartley (R-N. J.), were secured as speakers "to assure ourselves of the most competent advice on the subject.

Hartley, co-author of the Taft-Hartley act, will deliver the main address of the Ohio night dinner in the Neil House Wednesday. His subject will be the "Labor-Management Relations Act of 1947."

William B. Ringer, chief trial examiner of the National labor relations board, and Joseph M. Gambatese, Washington labor editor and formerly of the national wage stablization board, will analyze the Taft- Hartley law provisions at a labor relations forum earlier in the day.

Atkinson said the objective of Ohio industry is to obtain "a permanent, steady flow of production through individual action."

"If abundant production is to be assured and prices kept within the reach of all, means must be developed to maintain satisfactory relationships between management and labor, as well as with the general public," Atkinson said.

He described "satisfactory labor relations" one of the most important phases of the problem.

Want Disabled Vets Assigned To Jobs

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17—The Army and Air Forces want disabled veterans of the armed forces to be given jobs as superintendents of national cemeteries.

In a letter to Speaker of the House Joseph W. Martin, Jr., the services said existing law allows the appointments to go only to non-disabled veterans.

"Could We Afford A Funeral There . . .?"

The matter of funeral costs has been the subject of a great deal of misinformation. This is unfortunate when people really want the best to be had for the amount they can afford to invest.

There is the idea that funerals must cost more at a better Funeral Home that has good equipment. That is far from the facts. Funeral costs depend much more upon whether a firm conducts many, or only a few funerals.

For instance, the Hughes Funeral Home with the Everett organ and air conditioning offers better accommodations and equipment than most. Yet costs are no higher here than elsewhere. In fact, many have told us our charges are less. Any family can afford to employ our services.

CLEVELAND TO CUT FORCE

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 17—Mayor Thomas A. Burke said 100 service department workers will be dropped today from the city's payroll in the first step of his economy program. "I am confident if we practice real economy we shall end the year in the black," Burke added.

Morning Coughs Often Due to Bronchial Asthma

Do you cough and cough, especially mornings and at night? At times do you feel like you were tearing yourself to pieces trying to get rid of strangling mucus and still you choke, gasp for breath, wheeze and often can't sleep? The cause of these devitalizing symptoms may be recurring attacks of Bronchial Asthma. In such cases, the very first dose of Mendaco, a physician's prescription, usually starts almost instantly to help relax that clogged up stuffy feeling in the bronchial tubes, then helps Nature loosen and remove thick, strangling phlegm. This helps you get good fresh air into your lungs and promotes restful sleep. Mendaco is not a smoke, injection or spray, but is a tasteless internal medicine which works thru the blood, thus reaching the bronchial tubes and lungs. Mendaco must satisfy in every way or your money back is guaranteed. Ask your druggist for Mendaco today, and take exactly as directed

2,168 Handicapped Get Jobs in October

By International News Service

COLUMBUS, Nov. 17—Handicapped persons totaling 2,168 found jobs during October through the Ohio State Employment Service.

BUC Administrator Frank J. Collopy announced that the October figure represented an increase of more than one-third over September's total.

The employment service filled 33,046 jobs in October, a nine per cent drop from the preceding month's total of 36,214. Placements in the canning industry alone skidded from 5,453 to 904 between September and October.

Gains were recorded in clerical, sales, service, skilled and semi-skilled jobs. Placements in wholesale and retail trade were up 11 per cent.

Collopy said that a four per cent drop in the number of job seekers indicated good business conditions and a tight labor market.

Asks Racial Equality In U. S. Restaurants

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17—Secretary of Commerce Averell W. Harriman today asked congress for legislation permitting whites and Negroes to use the same restaurants at the government-owned Washington national airport in nearby Virginia.

Harriman said that under a Virginia state segregation law, the concessionaire operating the restaurants at the airport is required to provide separate eating places for Negro patrons.

This, he added, is "contrary to the policy of the federal government."

Police Probe Double Burglary at Crestline

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, Nov. 17—At the Crawford Motor Sale office here early Saturday, burglars got away with $250 in cash, six Atlas tires and a new pick up truck, which they used to carry away two cases of eggs, a large number of dressed chickens and 200 pounds of sugar, and also $26 in cash from the Link' West End grocery.

Entrance at Link's was gained through back window and at the motor sales they smashed a rear window and broke the combination off the safe and ransacked the office. The pick up truck which contained only about a gallon of gasoline was abandon a short distance away.

Chief of Police Paul Kindinger, said several leads in the case are under investigation today.

185 JEWS SLIP BY BRITISH PATROLS

By The Associated Press

JERUSALEM, Nov. 17—Jewish sources said today that 185 Jewish immigrants who got by British naval patrols yesterday and waded ashore after beaching their 50-ton launch Aliyah near Nahariya "are probably already dressed as workers and housewives and are out in the fields beside Palestinian Jews."

Officials who found the vessel abandoned on the beach of the fashionable resort, a few miles south of the Lebanese-Palestine border, admitted that the Jews probably had scattered into Palestine's interior under cover of early morning darkness.

Meanwhile 794 other Jews, intercepted yesterday aboard the 250-ton schooner Kadimah by a British boarding party, were sent to Cyprus detention camps. Four women and a child were taken from the Kadimah to a Haifa hospital and eight of their relatives were allowed to remain in Palestine with them.

Police who boarded the grounded Aliyah "found a number of United States army uniforms and tins of food in United States containers," an official report said.

THANKOFFERING SERVICE

The annual thankoffering service of the Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Women's Society of World Service was held Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Paul Zachman of 518 South Main street. Miss Helen Boyles, a missionary in Korea 21 years, spoke on her work and displayed souvenirs from that country. Prayers were by Mrs. H. J. Klinefelter and Mrs. Gertrude Myers. Items of food brought to the meeting are to be sent to a missionary in Japan. It was reported that more than 200 pounds of used clothing was sorted and packed for overseas relief, and four comforters were made during the last month. Thankoffering amounted to more than $100.

Does Stomach Gas and Bloat Make You Feel Miserable?

If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in freeing your stomach from this nervous distress. It works this way:

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

ACT TO FORM DAM DISTRICT

Maumee Conservancy District To Be Fourth Major Court in Ohio.

By The Associated Press

DEFIANCE, O., Nov. 17—Plans advanced today for formation of Ohio's fourth major conservancy district as common pleas judges of 15 counties in the Maumee watershed met to organize a conservancy court.

The court was to set time and place for hearing testimony on petitions asking for formation of the district to create a plan for flood control and water conservation for the entire watershed.

More than 1,500 land owners seven boards of county commissioners, and four municipal council signed the petitions.

Backers of the proposed district cite a series of conditions which they claim are reasons requiring formation of a conservancy district. They point out that approval of an "official plan" of conservancy would make the district eligible for congressional board

Reasons for Need

Reasons given for need of the conservancy district include:

Flood dangers in Defiance county at the convergence of the Maumee, Auglaize and Tiffin rivers. A repitition of the 1913 flood would cost the county $3,000,000, county commissioners estimated when posting $3,000 bond for conservancy district petitioners.

Lucas county commissioners asked creation of an over-all water conservation authority and said they fear flood damage at Toledo might be severe from rapid run-off water in the headwater counties.

Allen county landowners who signed the petition seek a means of restoring the slowly-falling water table. A water storage reservoir east of Lima on the Ottowa river to delay water during flood times was one mentioned possibility.

Findlay asks control of Eagle creek which annually floods the southeast section of the city. Hancock county engineers suggest a series of retarding dams to control the flow of flood waters.

Delphos Benefitted

Delphos, on the former Miami and Erie canal, contends the canal is an important source of water for industrial and railroad use and wants the conservancy district to take over the canal. Increased water rentals and local authority for maintenance would be among benefits accruing, proponets say.

Bowling Green, where water shortage often necessitates rationing of the municipal supply, has Wood county commissioners backing the program to provide a reservoir for Bowling Green in addition to protecting lowland areas from flood.

Ohio's conservancy districts are: Miami, embracing nine counties and formed in 1915; the Muskingum district of 18 counties formed in 1933; the Scioto-Sandusky district of 17 counties, and the Little Miami district of five counties, both formed in 1934.

Letters from Our Readers

MORE INFORMATION WANTED

Editor of The Star: Several speakers before various organizations have accused the people of our country of lack of interest and participation in the government of local communities, state and nation; but none of them gave a valid reason for that lack. Why don't we take a greater interest? Let us look at a few examples.

How many people knew that the bonus bill was coming out as a constitutional amendment to be voted on, until a couple of weeks before voting? And then it was buried in small print without any attractive headlines to draw one's attention to it. The legislation adjourned many weeks before, but did our representative let the voters know about it so they could study it and be prepared to vote intelligently? Constitutional amendments have a permanency and should not be considered lightly. As a result of this one, in order to give our boys a bonus we had to vote ourselves a state real estate tax.

I believe The Star must bear a certain amount of the blame for not informing the people about various matters. For weeks we studied The Star to find out who the candidates were for our school board, but there was no informaton. Consequently we did not know until we entered the polling booth. How can anyone vote intelligently when one has no idea about the candidates' views on school matters? What is the matter with our women taking a greater interest in school matters and becoming candidates for such offices? To many it seems a thankless job. If there were more consultation with the electorate it would not be that. But again that would be real democracy and there are forces in our midst who do not want democracy to work. Thomas Jefferson said: "Where the people are well-informed, they can be trusted with their own government; whenever things get so far wrong as to attract their notice, they may be relied on to set things to rights."

So we are still looking for the election results to be published. Every avenue ought to be used to inform the people, such as, the press, the forum, the P-TA, and other organizations. If more of this were done there would be less room for hate propaganda and there would be more prospect of peace and the good life for every one.—

They Can't Take It

WATCH the strikes, riots and systematic agitation of European Communists as they try to ruin weak governments in France and Italy. Eventually, the Communists will spring their mischief in Britain, as the Attlee government strangles in its own rope.

All these things fit into the picture of the Kremlin-directed conspiracy to rule the world. They have nothing whatever to do with the outworn theories of Karl Marx. The Kremlin ceased to be interested in Marx, except as a soporific for saps, some 20 years ago

What is being witnessed in Europe in 1947 is the conspiracy's desperate bid for power before the two things its masters feared most can happen.

One is the Marshall plan—latest scheme to reveal to Europeans that when they ask Americans for help they get bread, but from the Communists they get stones, bloodshed and another push toward concentration camps. The Communists must do whatever they can do to obscure United States aid, because it is an intolerable reminder that the victims of statism can get help in only one place, and the place isn't Russia. That is why there is an "iron curtain." It is why there are strikes and riots in France and Italy. The conspirators are on the defensive; they are creating a diversion Communists had to plant themselves in positions of influence in the United States—and in that, too, circumstances have turned against them. Americans are aware of the urgent necessity of routing them out of all the places where they might do to this country what they are doing to France, Italy and will try to do to Britain. Success in this housecleaning will ruin the conspiracy in the United States.

The United States is its ultimate goal because this country is the ultimate enemy—the one power that would have to be destroyed before statism could enslave the earth.

No Guns to the Indians

THE public assumed the atomic energy commission's new common-sense rule against exporting atomic energy apparatus was already in effect.

Ever since the first settlers tumbled over themselves to give guns to the hostile Indians, Americans have had a strange urge to arm their potential enemies. If it hadn't been for this urge, aided and abetted by misplaced profit motive, Japan still would be industrially what it has proved to be socially—a barbaric nation not to be trusted with anything more formidable than bows, arrows and samurai swords

The lesson should have been clear after Pearl Harbor that no nation has any right to borrow the tools of civilization unless it has demonstrated that it intends to use them for civilized purposes. When the United States refused to let Hitler's Germany buy helium gas here to increase the efficiency of rigid airships, it obeyed the dictates of good judgment for a change.

Good judgment now says the United States should give no help to countries that have lagged behind in technical skills, unless those countries have peaceful purposes.

In the case of atomic energy apparatus, there should be no sharing with anyone, lest the apparatus fall into the hands of aggressors. Eventually, it will get into their hands anyway, but the evil day shouldn't be hastened

Good Money After Bad

AS ENVISIONED by Secretary Marshall, the American relief program also would include aid to China at the rate of $20,000,000 a month, hardly more than a token payment. The implication is that the figure can't be larger because it hasn't been possible to work out a suitable plan to see that the money is properly used.

It is doubtful that any given grant within our capacity would save China from communism. Sending a mere $240,000,000 annually to a chaotic nation of 450,000,000 is like trying to cool an annealing furnace with a dipper of water. We have been pouring in vast sums for years, yet the Nanking government has been growing weaker.

The dollars that go to Europe will be for the rehabilitation of a once-vigorous industrial economy; China needs to be rebuilt from the bottom up. It needs a moral housecleaning and it needs agrarian reform as much as it needs American supplies. What Secretary Marshall proposes is writing off China for the present, but it's an expensive write-off.

"Forms" for Everybody

THE American Federation of Labor announced it will support a deminform as a rival to the new cominform. This, of course, would be for the propagation of democracy. Meanwhile, in western Europe, the slightly-left-of-center parties are talking about organizing a socinform

The "form" idea has unlimited possibilities. The International Association of Rabbit and Cavy Breeders could set up a rabinform.

Insomniacs, seeking surcease in a restless world, could organize a chloroform. And as for racing touts, they could have a racing form.

A specially devised steel spring enabled B-25 Mitchell bombers to mount 75mm. cannon capable of hurling 20 pounds of steel every three seconds for a distance of more than two miles.

Loans To European Industry

By Raymond Moley

SINCE the method of administration and not the amount of aid is the vital point in setting up the Marshall plan for aid to Europe, it is a pity that the report of the President's committee of foreign aid had so little to say on that subject

The committee, after laying down a number of principles and wisely suggesting that after the first year the amount and character of aid should be determined on a year-to-year basis, said only that the aid should be administered by a board independent of the state department and other existing agencies of the federal government.

The committee then added that this board should have representatives in the countries involved and that such representatives should deal with the governments on important matters through the various American ambassadors. This is all right as far as it goes. But it does not go far enough.

Raymond Moley

Baruch Idea Recommended

When congress gets down to business on the plan, it is to be hoped that an important suggestion of Bernard Baruch will be adopted. The Baruch idea has to do with the responsibility of European industries and governments for the sums loaned for machinery and other material needed for production.

Everyone, including the President's committee, agrees on a number of principles. Foremost among these is that the goods and services we can afford should not be free gifts. Another principle is that the great need of Europe is for stabilized currencies and balanced governmental budgets. Further, the stabilization of those currencies should be achieved by the countries themselves and not through gifts or loans of American dollars or gold.

Basis for Food Loans

Another point of agreement will be that food loans should be made on a basis different from that applying to raw materials for manufacturing, machinery and equipment for factories and farms.

It is on the point of materials for restablishing production that Baruch's idea comes in. He suggests that all loans for productive purposes should be made directly to syndicates of various industries. Further, he suggests that, because industries throughout almost all of Europe will not be allowed to transfer interest or repayments of capital without the consent of their respective governments, the governments should join with the industries in guaranteeing the loans. But the industries themselves should bear the primary obligation.

Nationalization Problem

The first difficulty in imposing such a condition will be that in most countries many industries are already nationalized or are in the process of nationalization. It may be possible, as the President's committee suggests, to impose non-nationalization conditions in our loans. Such conditions would be regarded as political interference with the internal affairs of the countries concerned. In most industries, however, the degree of future nationalization will depend upon the energy and success with which private owners recover the capacity to produce goods and services. The trend toward nationalization can well be halted, if private industry gets into anything like prewar production. This applies with special emphasis to Germany.

If, as we assume, the objective of the Marshall plan is to reestablish free enterprise as a barrier to statism in all forms, we should follow the normal course of lending directly to those who will finally administer industry.

The Need Is For Food —Not Filibusters

Congress convenes today at President Truman's request.

That is what is known as asking for trouble.

It is one of the anomalies of our Democratic system that the President can convene congress, but he can't adjourn it.

Secretary Marshall has asked $2,657,000,000 for foreign aid between now and next July 1. The average congressman will think a long time before appropriating that much money, especially when none of it is going into his district.

Of course, everyone is for foreign relief. It's just that there are so many "yes, but . . ." boys in responsible positions.

If European relief is defeated, it will be by reservations rather than opposition. Starving people need provisions, not provisos.

Strong U. S. Policy Needed

By Walter Lippmann

LAST week in his statement to congress Mr. Marshall said the operation of the European recovery program "must fully accord with the foreign policy of the President as expressed through the secretary of state." Before that will be possible, however, it will be necessary to find out whether the foreign policy of the President and his secretary of state is in accord with the European recovery program.

For the large sums which the program requires are being asked of congress on the premise that over a period of years Europe will have attained, or will be well within sight of, solvency, that what UNRRA, the British loan, the monetary fund and the World Bank have proved unable to achieve the European recovery program will achieve.

No candid student of the problem can certify such a happy ending to the story. But he can say that this program is sure to fail, and that it will become merely a series of annual dues, if the state department is unable to plan a policy to overcome the division of Germany and of Europe.

For the program assumes, the program demands, a resolute, lucid and coherent diplomatic campaign to unify Europe, to raise the iron curtain and to settle the war. Considering the immense resources, the military power, and the influence which are at the disposal of the State Department, it ought not to be impossible to develop such a policy.

The makings of such a policy—which would marry the Marshall plan to Secretary's Marshall's diplomacy—were stated, but not developed, at the beginning of Marshall's statement to congress last week.

Wants Full Restoration

He said we wish to see the whole European community "restored as one of the pillars of world security, in a position to renew its contribution to the advancement of mankind and to the development of a world order based on law and respect for the individual."

But, he said, "despite our efforts, not all of the European nations have been left free to take their place in the community of which they form a natural part." These unfree nations are, he said, those which lie east of that "line of division in Europe which is roughly the line upon which the Anglo-American armies coming from the west met those of the Soviet Union coming from the east."

Here "the war ended with the armies of the major allies meeting in the heart of this (the European) community." Of the major allies "only one power, the Soviet Union, does not for its own reasons share this aim"—that is to say the restoration of a free European community.

Thus on Secretary Marshall's analysis of the problem the Soviet Union is able to prevent the restoration of the European community, and to keep the eastern nations from taking their natural place in it, because the Soviet Army is still in the heart of the European community.

Soviet Withdrawal

It follows, does it not, that the restoration of Europe and the freedom of nations will be achieved only if the Soviet Army can be induced or compelled to withdraw from the heart of Europe—to move back from the Elbe River in the center of Germany to the Russian frontiers of 1945—a distance of approximately 500 miles

Marshall's analysis of the problem has not, however, been accepted as the working basis of our foreign policy.

For if it had been, we should be saying to the world that our objective is not to contain Russia at the dividing line in the heart of Europe, nor to stop communism at the Elbe River, but to let Europe reunite, and its nations recover their independence—and that our policy to achieve this great end is to bring about a settlement for Germany and Austria which calls for the evacuation of the whole of Europe by all the non-European armies now facing one another in the heart of it.

Though this policy would be nothing but an application of the classic, orthodox, and tested method of ending a war and establishing peace, it has had a curious reception.

What it is now the fashion to call our "policy makers" say, on the one hand, that it is utopian to suppose that the Russians will ever agree to such a settlement, and that on the other, the Russians may themselves propose it, and then it will be undesirable.

American Position

Let us begin by considering what will be the American position in the world if we are the first to declare that our paramount objective is a German and Austrian treaty which, on the basis of compromises about reparations, the status of the Ruhr, the structure of the German government, and the like, provides for a scheduled withdrawal of Russian, American and British troops. Let us suppose that the Russians refuse to agree to such a treaty at the forthcoming London conference, and show that they will not now make compromises that are needed to achieve the treaty.

What is our position then? It is an immensely strong one. For having made ourselves the champions of the unity of Europe, the unity of Germany, the liberators of the continent from the burden and oppression of alien armies, all the elemental forces of nationalism, pride, and hope, all the deep instincts of all people against foreign domination, will gather in our cause.

Time will work for our diplomacy. For each day that the occupation continues the resistance and revulsion must grow stronger against the power that is clearly identified as the one which prevents the military evacuation and the political liberation of the continent

And what if the policy succeeds—if not at this conference in London then at a later one, next spring, next autumn, next year? Then the Russian army will move back 500 miles from the heart of Europe to the frontiers of Europe.

This decisive change in the balance of power will, on Secretary Marshall's own showing, remove the principal force which now prevents the eastern nations of Europe from taking their "place in the community of which they form a natural part."

It will also remove the fear and the threat which hangs over western Europe, which is that the massive infantry of the Soviet Union might overrun it

Then the economic cooperation and mutual aid which are the sine qua non of the European recovery program will have a chance to become effective

Ohio Congressmen Careful on Marshall Plan

At Least Three, Including Rep. Smith, Outspoken Against It.

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, Nov. 17—Ohio's delegation to congress, led by Sen Robert A. Taft, was determined today as the special session opened that stop-gap aid to foreign countries and the Marshall plan would be studied carefully before action was taken.

At least three members of the 25-member delegation—composed of 21 Republicans and four Democrats—have disclosed outright opposition to the Marshall plan in recent statements.

Rep. Frederick C. Smith (R) of Marion, said when you go beyond feeding the hungry you use funds for political purposes and that is dangerous. He said "Stop-gap aid is sop-gap aid" and the Marshall plan is lend-lease extended and "I shall vote against it."

Says Europe Mal-Administered

The Republican congressman from Bryan, Clifford Clevenger, said he favored supplying the deficiencies in Europe's grain supply but charged that Europe was mal-administered. He said, "I think the Marshall plan as a whole is absolutely unjustified."

Rep. Walter Brehm, (R) of Millersport, said, "I intend to vote against the entire plan unless facts are brought out to change my mind. "I'm willing to help feed hungry people but when they confuse power politics and military loans I can't go for it."

Taft, announced candidate for the 1948 Republican presidential nomination and head of the senate G.O.P. policy committee, said here before leaving for Washington that the Marshall plan, even if the cost were cut, would cause serious price increases in this country.

He opposed immediate aid to China in a speech at New York City and said that foreign countries have 90 per cent of the solution of their probems lies in their own hands. Taft called for a thorough debate and study of the Marshall plan.

Would Halt Shipments to Reds

The junior Ohio senator, John W. Bricker, said, "Relief to foreign countries should not, I believe, be at the expense of rationing our people." He proposed that every shipment on lend lease to Russia and her sattellite nations be halted immediately.

Congressman-at-large George Bender (R) of Cleveland, said his position was pretty much the same as Senator Taft's stand but believed that the Truman doctrine and the Marshall plan are "bankrupt policies."

A general desire for additional information both on the stop-gap plan and Marshall program was expressed by most of the other Ohio congressmen.

Rep. Alvin F. Weichel (R) of Sandusky, said, "I want a lot of testimony on needs before I vote to give them anything," while Rep. P. W. Griffiths, (R) of Marietta, agreed with Taft that the expenditure proposed in the Marshall plan was too high

Ohio's new congressman who was elected Nov. 4, Rep. William McCulloch, (R) of Piqua, said, "I favor helping friendly European nations help themselves but don't approve of wrecking ourselves to help countries which already have wrecked themselves beyond help."

Rep. Henderson H. Carson, (R) of Canton, said he would back the stop-gap move but that the long range Marshall plan requires more consideration. He suggested that a special board responsible only to congress be created to insure that the money is used wisely.

One of the four Democrats from Ohio in congress, Michael J. Kirwan, Youngstown, said, "I'm for the foreign aid program and I believe it should be voted quickly. We need it in a hurry."

Russia To Open New Coal Fields

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW—Four coal fields have been surveyed this year in the area discovered by Soviet geologists during the war in the Kuznetsk Basin.

Chief Engineer Molchanov of the Kuzbas Coal Prospecting Organization, who has been supervising the exploratory work, said the area would probably rank among the most important in this rich basin.

The fields are located in the Taiga 60 kilometers from the city of Stalinsk between the Tom and Usa rivers in the foothills of the Kuznetsk Ala-Tau mountains. The mountainous terrain enables the deposits to be trapped through galleries driven into the hillsides eliminating the need of shaft-sinking.

What Can Be Wrong With the Kiddies?

"Fosston, Minn.—Two boys, aged 8 and 10 armed with six rifles and 10,000 rounds of ammunition which they stole from a sporting goods store, terrorized this town today. They fired on homes, automobiles, gas stations and a tourist camp, holding off a sheriff's posse for hours before eluding it. The children had a record of previous arrest for overturning 26 tombstones in a cemetery."—News item.

Golly, how do you suppose children ever get ideas like that? No coaching, please!

Where in the world could the kiddies get notions about guns and ten thousand rounds of ammunition and general violence? Huh? What could make an eight year old child want to tree a whole community, blasting away at all hands for an afternoon's good clean fun? I'm asking that lady in the gallery, yes, the one in the pink hat.

It couldn't be the radio programs because there are only half a hundred or so featuring crime and on two or three there is no gunfire. And following the complete exposition of manslaughter isn't there always a ten second quickie to the effect that there is no place for violence in human affairs?

And the movies are out. Eric Johnston's office is functioning, all the movie producers have kiddies of their own and nobody in Hollywood would want to warp a child's mind.

It couldn't be the authors of the radio and movie scripts, because, if they had the remotest idea anybody except adults were following those prison riots, gangster clambakes, street stickups and free for all street shootings, they would never sleep with an easy conscience again. Obviously.

It couldn't be that kids who upset tombstones in the morning, rob gun stores after lunch and shoot up towns in the afternoon are influenced by those newspapers which make a photographic field day of every juvenile crime, showing the boy who just fired the old ladies home grinning from ear to ear. Or displaying a group of grinning cops, detectives, prosecuting attorneys and judges carefully grouping themselves to the best advantage for the picture with the kindergarten fugitive who just shot his old man.

It baffles us. Surely the national idolatry of cheap, tawdry, self advertising characters parading all over the national scene wouldn't have anything to do with it. Kids wouldn't be influenced, would they, by the fact that those who flaunt rules of decent behavior are glamourized?

Naw! Let's not be silly. Whenever you read of mere babies slugging, leering, shooting and throat-slitting these days it is simply due to the fact mommer allowed them to sit in a draft when infants. Popper refused Junior a Rolls Royce for Christmas. And the milk was short of vitamins. Next case, Mr Psychiatrist! And will you take the stand, too, Mr. Balonus-Balonus?

A 44-PASSENGER bus was stolen from in front of a garage the other day and the company didn't miss it until the police called up and inquired if it missed anything. The little things in life don't hold attention the way they once did.

We hear of a New York society woman who got all mixed up. She led her diamond tiara into the ring at the Horse Show and then tried to jump the triple bars at the opera opening.

Frankie Sinatra and Postmaster General Hannegan were listed at the Metropolitan opening. Frankie wore silver fox lined trunks of purple. Mr. Hannegan, we hear, was fetchingly attired in a mink mailbag.

Suspense

By Truman Twill

Never one to cast down our eyes in confusion when confronted with startling fads in feminine clothing, we are enchanted—as all males are supposed to be—by the newest stunt of the dress designers.

These pranksters, having put over the preposterous fad of lengthening skirts so far that a bowlegged female can keep her secret, are now engaged in another practical joke—with reverse English.

Approximately the amount of material that has been added to the length of the skirt is being taken away from the top of some of the blouse, or whatever you call it, and the result threatens to be the most precarious balancing act since the ladies of yesterday posed for those startling paintings that suggest great grampaw was more to be censured than pitied.

This gravity-defying design has limited application and will of necessity be adopted only as permitted by the proprieties and the ability of its wearers to handle the mechanics of the thing. Schools will be opened in large centers of population to give instruction to a generation of women who never learned how to shrug without starting a riot.

Something also will have to be done about a generation of men taught by their mothers to mutter, "Pardon me" when it looked as if a lady had been trapped out of season in her boudoir. These louts will have to be cured of getting pop-eyed and red-necked. They will have to be taught how to pretend this is old stuff to them, this fad of semi-nakedness from the top down.

Fortunately, the "Now look!" succeeding the "New look" isn't likely to become popular immediately. It is apparently going to be restricted to dressup occasions for a long time to come. It will be commonplace for many months only in hoist-and-howl parlors specializing in after-dark patronage. If it ever filters down to the ribbon clerks and stenographers, the novelty will be worn out.

Eventually, a lady in a nightgown threatening to slip off her shoulders will attract no more attention than the same lady used to attract in a skirt that only came down to here. Which is to say she will attract no more attention than she intended to attract, which is the same as a man on horseback in the Memorial Day automobile races would attract on the Indianapolis Speedway.

There's always one more thing happening in this country that a fellow must wait around to see how it turns out—and now we have the gravity-defying dress for women. Will it stay in place? Will the police have to be called to hold back the crowds? Time will tell.

Sulfa Used on Lepers

By The United Press

NEW YORK—Dr. R. C. Speaking at a meeting of the American Mission to Lepers, the physician said beneficial results had been noted in the use of the drugs over a period of five years. He said leprosy cases in the United States were estimated at from 1,500 to 3,000

Famed Song Leader Coming For Service Here Wednesday

HOMER RODEHEAVER

One of the country's outstanding figures in the field of religious musicianship for many years, Homer Rodeheaver, will be in Marion Wednesday night. He will appear at the final session of the School of Religion and Life of Epworth Methodist church and Methodist churches of the county, at the forum hour in the church at 8:15. Theme of the service will be "Sing with Rodeheaver." This part of the school will follow the final class periods which will convene at 7:30.

Author and composer, world traveler and lecturer, Mr. Rodeheaver began his career in music many years ago and was song leader for some time for religious campaigns throughout the country with the Rev. Billy Sunday evangelistic party. In later years he has often used the radio as his medium for bringing his messages and music to great numbers of listeners. He is called "one of the greatest living exponents of Gospel music," and it is said of him that he has "sung himself into the hearts of more than 70 millions of people." His concerts are described as "breathing the spirit of friendliness, bringing spiritual help, delightfully entertaining, and leaving his audiences both happier and better." A large attendance is expected at the forum meeting. Members of the Wesleyan Service Guild of Epworth church plan to attend the program in a body for their regular Guild program, then go to "Our House." By The Associated Press

LONDON, Nov. 17—The greatest assembly of European royalty since the 1937 coronation of King George VI was in London today for the first of a series of brilliant social events preceding Princess Elizabeth's wedding to Lieutenant Philip Mountbatten Thursday.

Princess Elizabeth was up at her usual early hour at Buckingham palace, hurrying through preparations for a party at Saint James' palace, where the wedding presents are on display.

One thousand guests were invited to today's party, officially listed as the first of the wedding week functions.

Tonight there will be a state dinner at Buckingham palace, followed by a dance for 150 guests.

A full dress rehearsal, witnessed by the queen and princesses from a window as the procession left the palace, was staged yesterday along streets lined with thousands who braved freezing weather and a bitterly cold wind to watch the pageantry.

The king and queen spent a busy Sunday hurrying from one railway station to another to greet royal guests.

rel, wanted to know whether Lamarre and his wife had gone out socially with Meyers during 1937-39. Lamarre said they had, perhaps once a month.

Worked for Douglas

The witness related that after leaving Goodyear he got a job with the Douglas Aircraft company at Santa Monica, Calif.

"How did you happen to go to work for Douglas?' Rogers asked.

Lamarre said he was out of work for a time after leaving Goodyear and that his wife said she thought that Meyers might be able to find work for him in an aircraft company.

Smart, who was secretary to air staff, told the senate group it had been suggested in the air force that his initials were forged, but he thinks "it is improbable" that there was any forgery.

His memory, he said, is "absolutely blank" about the letter and why it was sent to the war department files without action.

Up to now the retired air force general has been sharing the congressional hot seat with millionaire plane-maker Howard Hughes in a tumultuous round of charges and countercharges.

But the senate war investigating committee rang down the curtain over the weekend on that phase of its inquiry dealing with $40,000,000 worth of warplane contracts awarded to Hughes and the related role Meyers played in this many-sided story.

bearable pressure on prices. I therefore recommend that authority be granted . . . to ration basic cost of livings items . . ."

The President asked congress to act right away to give him power to establish these controls.

Time Required

"It takes several months to set up an organization and make the administrative arrangements necessary to put price control and rationing into effect," the President reasoned.

"Thus," he added, "the only prudent course is to establish the authority at this time so the necessary preparations can be started.

"If we fail to prepare for results from our unpreparedness, we will have gambled with our national safety—and lost."

In asking for the authority for wage ceilings, the President said he believed there would be "few occasions" for imposition of this type of control.

He said he was confident that if living costs could be held in reasonable relationship to income, "wage adjustments through collective bargaining will be consistent with productivity and will avoid an inflationary round of wage increases"

Wants Rent Controls Kept

On rents, the President asked for extension of controls which expire next spring and for correction of "weaknesses" in the present law.

After making his toughest economic recommendations since price and wage ceilings were abandoned, the President promised that even with the new authority the government would intensify its efforts to obtain voluntary action.

"Wherever voluntary action will do the job there will be no necessity to impose the government's authority," he said. "But the very existence of these powers should have salutary effect

JANET ROSENBLATT

Police of Richland Center, Wis, were dragging the Blue River in Richland County seeking the body of Carl L. Carlson 25. Carlson's sister-in-law, Janet Ann Rosenblatt, 19, of Cleveland Heights, O. and a student at the University of Michigan told Sheriff E. A. Fischer of Madison, Wis., that two men who gave Carlson and her a ride in an automobile, had slain Carlson and raped her.

the Wisconsin river at two points today for Carlson's body.

Miss Rosenblatt said either might have been the spot where two men dumped the weighted body of her brother-in-law, into the river.

Police began a statewide search for Sennett and Winslow, when they were connected with the affair after police learned that license plates found on the blood stained automobile were taken from a car owned by Sennett's father.

The girl victim later identified photographs of Sennett and Winslow as the men who attacked her and killed Carlson.

Police believed that the two men might have headed toward Rockford, Ill., where one of them has friends, or might have headed into the woods of northern Wisconsin.

The girl said two men picked her and Carlson up Friday night after they missed their bus at Madison. After driving 12 miles, one of the men asked Carl to change seats with him so he could sleep in the back seat.

"Carl was sitting beside me in the front seat," she told police. "We rode a bit further and I heard two clicks, then a shot. Carl slumped over beside me, dead."

Tells of Wild Ride

The men put Carlson's body in the trunk of the car and then took her on a wild ride, each of them attacking her as they sped over the snow-covered roads of southern Wisconsin.

Later, she said, they drove toward Blue River, Wis., west of Madison. Somewhere along the road the men weighed Carlson's body and threw it into the river.

The men alternately drove and slept all night after killing Carlson, she said. She was uncertain of the route they followed because she is a stranger to Wisconsin.

She said she escaped while the men were trying to move the car when it became mired in a ditch near Hillsboro, Wis. She hitchhiked a ride from a passing motorist and notified police.

Police found the bloodstained car about 50 miles west of Madison and learned it was stolen from Galena, Ill. It was then that authorities learned that the license plates were those stolen from Sennett's father.

The discovery that the car was stolen from Galena and driven to Wisconsin brought the federal bureau of investigation into the case. since transporting a stolen automobile across a state line is a federal offense.

$20,000 SOUGHT IN HEART BALM SUIT

Plaintiff Charges Defendant Reneged on Wedding.

Twenty thousand dollars is sought in a breach of promise suit filed in common pleas court by Arlene Horn against William O. Moore. According to the plaintiff's petition field Saturday, the couple was to have been married Sunday, Nov. 16. Several days prior to the wedding date, the petition states, the defendant informed her he would not marry her and asked her to vacate property and return household furnishings which he purchased and gave to her earlier this month.

Because of the defendan'ts failure to perform his part of the agreement, the plaintiff claims damage to her reputation, and that she has suffered mental anguish, humiliation, wounded pride and nervous shock and anxiety of mind.

The petition asks reparation in the amount of $20,000, and asks that the defendant be restrained from interferring with the plaintiff in her ownership and occupancy of the property and furnishings and that he be enjoined from transferring or selling the same. The defendant, the petition states, has an income of approximately $400 a month and also other property. Attorney Frank Wiedemann represents the plaintiff.

Legal Guns Being Fired In Newark Bay Battle

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 17—Legal cannonading is going on today in another episode in the "Battle of Newark Bay."

While the city of Newark's "squirt-gun" fleet of two fireboats kept its hoses wet, and the decommissioned battleship New Mexico remained at anchor well out of the range, the city's legal department hurled a new broadside in the form of an ultimatum.

Assistant Corporation Counsel Sidney Simandl last night notified Lipsett, Inc., salvage firm intent on scrapping the New Mexico at Port Newark, that it must be agreed that the battlewagon will not be moved until Wednesday, or the firm must defend a petition for a federal injunction "immediately."

The salvage firm had agreed not to move the New Mexico until tomorrow, awaiting outcome of a conference between the navy department and the port of New York authority in Washington.

Marion Couple in Japan Meet Emperor Hirohito and Empress

Two Marion residents were members of a party of four Americans, one French Canadian missionary, two Frenchmen and about 25 Japanese making up the receiving line when Emperor Hirohito and the Empress visited the French Canadian Catholic mission near Nasau, some 40 miles from Utsunomiya. They were Tech. Sgt. and Mrs. Frederick Myers son and daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Bertram D. Myers of Thew avenue. Mr. Myers is in military service in Japan.

In letters to Mr. and Mrs. Myers, an interesting account of the event is related by the Utsunomiya residents.

After a two-hour ride in a jeep the Myers', to their surprise, learned upon arrival, they were to be in the receiving line and would shake hands with the emperor and empress as they were presented. This was a privilege which only a handful of Americans had previously been accorded, and these high ranking officers and statesmen. Until the end of the war Japanese themselves were not allowed to look upon the emperor, much less touch him.

Arrive In 5 Cars

The party arrived in five long shiny cars, the one carrying their royal highnesses being red, the others black. Welcomed by Father Flaujac, who is in charge of the mission, the party was led to the receiving line, the emperor walking on a newly-made path which all had been instructed not to walk upon. The emperor was somewhat ill at ease while the empress "had a much firmer handshake, a very pleasant smile and low soft voice and was perfectly at ease." Instead of wearing a kimona, as was expected by the Americans, the empress wore a pale lavender ankle-length dress with kimona sleeves and a wrap-around front. If she had worn a obi, (a wide wrapping around the waist) it might have passed for a Japanese costume but instead it was tied with a large sash of the same material. She was hatless, as is the custom for Japanese women, and her hair was permanented and fastened in a roll low on her neck. Through an interpreter the Americans learned that the emperor and empress were very happy to meet them.

Before the war the Japanese were never permitted close to the Emperor and were obliged to bow very low whenever he was passing. This was the first time the Japanese present, had been allowed to raise their heads and see what their ruler looked like. Many of those in the receiving line, however, kept their heads completely lowered throughout the whole ceremony.

On Tour of Grounds

After the introductions were over, the royal couple walked up a slight hill to a small tea house where the mission workers had prepared two white covered chairs on which the emperor and his wife rested. In front of them was placed a large white table on which was the inevitable drawfed tree decoration. While they rested, Father Flaujac told of the year's work at the mission and later, with all following, he conducted the party ovar the property. During the 40 minutes' tour the guests were permitted to take pictures. When the royal couple returned to their limousines the crowd shouted "Banzai," which means "10,000 years for the Emperor."

After the empress had seated herself in the car she smiled very graciously to Mrs. Myers and her companion the wife of an Army officer, and Mrs. Myers writes, "not to be outdone, the two of us crossed one hand over the other and placed our crossed hands on our knees and bowed the traditional Japanese farewell."

The mission is located in what was formerly a part of His Imperial Majesty's domain and was purchased by the Roman Catholic Missionary Society in Tokyo.

Sgt. Myers has been stationed in Japan for the last two years and was joined by Mrs. Myers and their sons, Michael and Stephan a year ago. He expects to conclude his Army service in 1949 and return to the states. He is on leave for military service from the staff of the Marion postoffice. Mrs. Myers, the former Miss Margaret Roundy, was Girl Scout executive secretary before their marriage.

WARNS OF CHAOS. Ambassador to Britain, Lewis Douglas is shown on the witness stand at the house foreign affairs committee hearing in Washington. The envoy was asked to appear before the committee to amplify his warning to the senate foreign relations committee that the U. S. has only about two months to provide aid to France to prevent disorder and chaos.

Santa's Toy Supply More Varied But Short on Quantity

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 17 — Santa Claus will bring a greater variety of toys this Christmas than any year since before the war, but the jolly fellow's yuletide sack will be short on quantity.

That's the word from the nation's leading toy manufacturers at the Chicago Merchandise Mart.

It isn't exactly Santa's fault that he won't have ample stocks. The trouble is that even he can get tied up in economics. That's what happened this year, manufacturers say.

At the first of the year economic conditions were what the serious writers call "uncertain." Lots of people thought there'd be a recession, causing lower prices later in the year. Many retailers didn't order far ahead.

Most manufacturers wouldn't take the chance of building up a large toy inventory, fearful they'd be unable to sell the goods. Now the retailers, less afraid of that recession, are pouring in their orders and manufacturers are setting production records.

But there aren't going to be enough toys to meet the orders.

Biggest scarcity, the manufacturers say, will be in composition dolls. This summer's heat and humidity prevented the composition from "setting." (These dolls are made from glycerin, wood pulp and glue).

The mishap occurred when Mrs. Strohm was trying to reach home after attending a Mt. Zion school entertainment after finding her car without lights for the trip. She was being guided by lights of neighbors' cars. The car was badly damaged. She was riding alone.

item at this emergency — not much may be done — is trying to find a keeping prices down in country matter what it does on this, expect congress to vote a of OPA or price controls the things you buy in stores.

So much for the emergency session.

The No. 1 problem facing the regular session will be the Marshall plan, as noted. It will take months to decide on that one.

Here are some other problems the regular session may try to solve or just kick around: An income tax cut and compulsory military training.

(And, as every regular session must do, the one starting Jan. 5 will spend months deciding how much money the government can have to run another year.)

WHY THIS EMERGENCY session? When the regular 1948 session quit last July 26, congress thought it had finished its work for this year.

But meanwhile France, Italy and Austria were falling into such bad shape for lack of American dollars to buy things they needed, that President Truman acted.

He called congress back into the session which started today. What do those countries need? Secretary of State Marshall figured it this way:

Food — $31,000,000, coal—$184,-000,000; petroleum — $35,000,000; cotton—$38,000,000, fertilizer and seed—$35,000,000; medical supplies—$4,000,000.

Total—$597,000,000.

Of that total, this is what the three countries would get: France —$328,000,000; Italy — $227,000,-000; Austria — $42,000,000.

Why do those countries need the help in such a rush that Mr. Truman found it necessary to call congress into session now?

THE PEOPLE THERE FACE real hardship this winter unless they get help. Hardship may mean chaos. Through such chaos the Communists may move into power.

Secretary Marshall has said Italy will reach the "end of its tether" by Dec. 1 and France will be out of funds to buy what it needs abroad by Dec. 31.

This session can work fast. It's had a head start because congressional committees have been gathering information on Europe's needs for weeks.

Very little will be done this week, except talk. The first week of congress is always like that.

By Next week the committees, mentioned above, may be able to send up to the full house and senate their recommendations for helping those three nations.

Then, after a lot of arguments, house and senate can vote.

Although Secretary Marshall has said the three countries will need $597,000,000 in help, they may get less.

Senator Taft of Ohio, a power among the senate Republicans, says he thinks that figure of $597,000,000 is too high.

That may mean a fight. So it seems unlikely the help will be voted by congress without critical examination and much debate.

GALION, Nov. 17—Plans were furthered last week at a meeting of the Galion District committee of the Boy Scouts of America, for organization of two, and possibly three, new Boy Scout troops in Galion. The meeting was held at Senior High school with Chairman, C. L. Alles in charge.

Roving Reports

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

I PREFER the "cold war."

That is what some folks call the economic and diplomatic tug-of-war between America and Russia in their campaigns to win friends and influence people around the world.

It is a war in which bombast is used instead of bombs and wounds are caused by leaden propaganda instead of leaden pellets.

Yes, I prefer the cold war. There are all kinds of advantages to it that you can't find in the ordinary, run-of-the-mill wars of the past which once caused William James to observe that "History is a bath of blood."

BOYLE

The "cold war" is a bath of words, dollars, rubles and rumbled overtures of devotion to fair Europe in her hour of woe.

The two contending suitors of this distressed widow mutter threats back and forth and warn her of the other fellow's dark intentions. Uncle Joe says he's poor but honest and that Uncle Sam is a rich scalawag who wants to buy Mrs. Europe for his harem. Uncle Sam says Uncle Joe is just an opportunist who will stow her away in a closet like bluebeard or else make her take in washing.

The fair lady herself doesn't seem to want to marry either one, and is inclined at times to think she is like a lamb being fought over by two rival sheepherders. But meanwhile the courtship certainly has its advantages for her, and is flattering beyond anything she ever has known.

No widow in history ever was offered more help in sawing her firewood or filling her empty cupboard.

THE "COLD WAR" is cheaper than conventional wars, because it doesn't cost either side as much to send over words and food as it does to send its massed ships, men and machines.

Some other advantages:

Nobody has to tramp all day in the rain and sleep all night in the mud.

Nobody has to shiver in a foxhole, waiting for dawn and death.

Nobody has to read V-mail.

Nobody has to eat cold vegetable stew out of frozen cans.

Nobody has to explain he isn't wearing a uniform because he inherited asthma from his grandfather.

Nobody has to shave with cold ditchwater or eat doughnuts unless he wants to.

Nobody's mother has to put a gold star in the window her boy once looked through.

Who wouldn't choose the "cold war?" There's lots to protocol but little saluting. The firing lines are in the council halls of the United Nations and the world's capitals, and all are heated in winter.

THE WARRIORS are diplomats. They can go home to their families each night and generally have the weekend off. Their barrages are speeches and paper blasts, and they cure combat fatigue by taking a walk in the corridor.

The ex-privates of the last war can gripe against their own generals in this one and never have to worry about going to the guardhouse. That is, in some countries they can.

There aren't so many medals passed out, but there aren't any purple hearts either.

If we must have war, I'll take the "cold war." Let's hope nobody ever ruins it by shooting off anything bigger than his mouth.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

I LOOKED at Mary with mingled exasperation at her teasing audacity, and satisfaction at the picture of gleeful satisfaction she presented.

"I'll give you the back of my hand in another second," I told her, "if you don't get to bed and stop slandering your elders."

"And betters," she amended with a gamin grin as she went through the door. Less than ten minutes later, Katharine came through it, smiling mirthfully.

"Mary says you're putting the stew on," she said, "and want me to help stir it."

"I do," I admitted, "but I also want a third hand with a spoon."

I rose, crossed to the telephone and called Dicky's studio apartment, talking softly, so that Mary should not hear. But Katharine grinned at me.

"You don't need to mute your voice," she said. The eighth wonder of the world was fast asleep before I left her. Besides, isn't that door virtually sound proof?"

I nodded, as Dicky's voice came over the telephone.

"Yes? What's doing?"

"We need you on the home front," I told him.

"And I was curled up with a good book!" he complained in a high falsetto. "But I'll sacrifice myself. I'll be right down."

He kept his word. I opened the door to his knock in two minutes, and he looked around the room evidently expecting to see Mary.

"Brat's school dismissed for the day?" he asked.

"She dismissed herself," I said. "Katharine says she is sound asleep. Did she seem unduly excited to you?" I asked my kinswoman, for I had waited for either questions or discussions until Dicky should be with us.

"No," Katharine said. "She was a bit keyed up, seemed agog with secret mischief, but it wasn't doing her any harm, and she went to sleep like a kitten."

"I gather," Dicky said loftily, "that you have called me into consultation on this case. Please do not waste my valuable time, but state your case clearly and concisely."

"We'll let you 'curl up with your good book' again in a very few minutes," I promised, wrinkling my nose at him, "but in the meantime, keep quiet. I want to tell both you and Katharine of Mary's astounding reaction to the return of Georges."

Without waiting for an answer, I plunged into a "play by play" account of what Mary had said, and when I had finished, I saw my husband looking at me quizzically.

"You've lost your perspective, old dear," he said. "What is astounding about Mary's reaction to your news?"

"For once, and with extreme reluctance, I agree with the Dickybird," Katharine said. "Mary's doing exactly the thing you'd expect her to do, and God help Georges when she perfects her campaign. He'll be nothing but pulp, by the time she gets through with him."

"I suppose you're both right," I said, "but I haven't seen her so —so—"

"Full of the devil and all his works?" my husband prompted.

"Exactly," I told him, smiling. "Thanks a million. I thought she was keyed up over her lines, but there was so much anxiety mixed up in that, that when she did appear like her old self, I had the feeling that she was acting a role."

"Which was exactly what she was doing every minute of the time," Katharine said. "She isn't yet quite up to par in memorizing her lines, is she?"

"No," I admitted reluctantly, "but she's improving every hour, and I'm sure it won't be long until she's in her old form again."

"And nothing in the world will be better for her memory and her work than this Georges thing," my kinswoman said. "It's taken her out of herself, and she's so busy thinking up ways and means to chop Georges into mince meat, that I'll bet she hasn't given a thought to her lines since she heard your news."

"Yes, she has," I said defensively. "When I told her about the wedding, adding the corollary that you were afraid the excitement of the wedding would be too much for her, she said that if Olga engineered the wedding, it would be perfectly possible for her to get away with me for hours at a time and work on her play."

"H-m!" Katharine mused. Then she put a sharp query.

"Look here!" she said. "Was that optimistic pre-occupation with her work, before or after you told her of what Georges, Noel and Olga were secretly thinking about the possible emotional complications of her presence at the wedding?"

WORRIES OF STEEL INDUSTRY LESSENED

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 17—Worries metalworking companies and producers that their raw materials problems would be greatly intensified by the foreign program were discounted somewhat last week when the man committee recommended to the President that no scrap ports be permitted, the magazine Steel reported today.

The committee also recommended that semifinished steel shipments be pared sharply from the requests of the European nations and that other steel requirements be screened carefully. The committee disclosed that this country had lost nearly 124,000,000 tons of potential scrap through war exports from 1941-45.

No easing in supplies for hard-pressed metalworking companies is in sight spite the fact steel production has pushed to a peacetime peak, the trade publications said.

"The stringency, especially in flat-rolled products, continues as tight as at any time during the war," the magazine said, adding that "producers are studying their allocation records closely and some formerly on a quarterly basis have switched to a monthly basis to exercise even more strict control over distribution of their output."

Steel said that last month's new peacetime record ingot output of more than 7,500 000 tons was remarkable "in that it was made in the face of acute shortages in the principal steelmaking raw materials, scrap and pig iron."

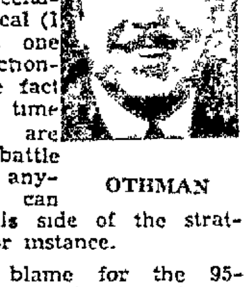
Capital Capers

By Frederick Othman

The noise you hear, as of a breeze through the pine trees, is nothing to be alarmed about. it's me exhaling a sign of relief. My troubles are over. Congress is back.

No longer need I turn over rocks looking for pieces for the paper, nor prowl through the patent office seeking newly invented boons to humanity. The soup's on, bean flavor, at Capitol Hill.

All I have to do now is to sit on a stool (which could be a little wider) in the press gallery, while the lawgivers make news under my eyes on all subjects, including the sorry state of mink coats on the hoof.



OTHMAN

What makes this reporter's heaven especially paradisaical (I found that one in the dictionary) is the fact that this time the boys are primed for battle on almost anything you can mention this side of the stratosphere. For instance.

Who's to blame for the 95-cent beefsteak? The Republicans, or the Democrats? Should the District of Columbia commissioners be allowed to use shotguns on Pennsylvania avenue in their historic fight against the annual starling scourge?

Should the OPA be revived? With red tokens for meat? And what about the price of lunch in the senatorial cafeteria? How much money should we spend for hungry Chinese? When will the whisky distilleries be reopened?

WHAT'S HAPPENED to all the nails for house building? What are we going to do about the king of Saudi Arabia who owns a billion barrels of oil and has the gimmes? Do the members of the house get comfortable chairs next year, or don't they? How much wheat do we ship to Europe? Should we try to educate the British into developing a taste for peanut butter?

Will a cut in income taxes be a blessing, or a scourge? How much longer should the government support the price of turkeys? Shall a dozen movie actors, writers and directors be held in contempt of congress? And what, if anything, are we to do about Communism?

Should we ration bath tubs? Skip Howard Hughes and his giant flying boat? Abolish the dollar - down - dollar-when-you-catch-me sales of motor cars, gold-plated wrist watches, and automatic washing machines?

WHAT ABOUT INDIANS? Are we treating 'em right? Do government clerks get too many holidays? How's the new labor law working out? What kind of gent is Sen. Theodore G. (The Man) Bilbo's successor? When will we stop shipping coal to New Castle?

Has the administration any right to seek wartime censorship in peacetime? Has the international static been strained from the voice of America? What about singing commercials on our own radio? Do the members of the house get their private subway car, like the senators?

Should we try to buck the international cocoa bean combine? What are we going to do about Alaska's decrepit railway? Does the air force need a new police department to keep an eye on the stock market dealings of its officers? Is the 40-hour week too long to labor? Or not long enough?

Boy! These are just some of the questions, the answering of which will make my work easy from now on. And I almost forgot those walking mink coats. The question is this:

Should the house agriculture committee write a law prohibiting aviators from flying low over fur farms and frightening the mink, which are timid beasts at best, into losing their hair?

UNITED PRESS

SANITARIAN CITES HEALTH REGULATION

Covers Wells and Sewage Disposal Units.

Pointers on two important phases of rural sanitation, location and development of wells and sanitary sewage disposal units, are offered by F. D. Maxwell, sanitarian for the Marion county general health district.

Mr. Maxwell in discussing the problem of securing and maintaining a pure water supply and establishment of individual sewage systems in a fashion to safeguard health, offers the service of the county department in checks on the purity of well water and construction advice concerning sanitary sewers.

Location of Well

Mr Maxwell says it is important that a well be located a safe distance from sources of contamination such as leaching privies, sewers, leaching cesspools, barnyards, etc. In this county, for private residences, a minimum distance of 30 feet from any source of contamination is required. The well should be located on higher ground than the privy or barnyard so that the drainage from these features will be away from the well. The well casings and the pipes through which suction lines extend are carried above the concrete platform and the platform must be of reinforced concrete and must be water tight.

There are three main types of wells used in Marion county, namely, drilled, driven, and dug wells. The most certain method of obtaining a water of satisfactory sanitary quality is from a drilled well. In addition to the precautions necessary in the installation of all types of wells, the important item in the construction of a dug well is to provide a water tight well from the ground surface to a sufficient depth to prevent surface water or water from shallower depths entering the well. The current practice in development of a driven well consisting of a single driven pipe and a pitcher pump is not satisfactory. Where a driven well is to be installed, the casing should be driven to a sufficient depth to prevent shallow ground water entering the well and the casing should be of sufficient size to permit placing a separate suction pipe within the drive pipe.

Problem of Sewage

Sewage, is defined by the Marion county sanitary regulations, as "the liquid wastes from plumbing fixtures including the wastes from water closets, urinals, lavatories, bath, sinks, laundry tubs, floor drains, and other sanitary fixtures." Now the relation between sewage and water can easily be seen. Sewage is merely dirty water, yet this dirt is full of bacteria which can contaminate your water supply if allowed to be disposed of in a careless manner. At farm dwellings field tile are too often used to carry sewage or wastes from buildings. The open joints of the tile permit sewage to percolate into the soil and sewage may reach the water supply if these tiles are located too close to your well.

"In the absence of a sanitary sewer, sewage should be disposed of in a manner to prevent a nuisance and avoid contamination of a water supply. Sewage shall be discharged through a water tight sewer into a tank constructed water tight. Such tank shall be of at least 500 gallons capacity and shall be located at least 30 feet from a private well water supply. No overflow from such tank shall be permitted unless the overflowing liquid is conveyed in a water tight sewer to a suitable subsurface leaching device, acceptable to the Health officer, except that such liquid may be conveyed in a watertight sewer to an outlet or other point of discharge with the written approval of the Health officer."

Ohio College Gridders To Play Final Games This Weekend

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 17—Ohio college gridders wheel into the final big weekend of the 1947 season Saturday—a 14-game slate—but only the Denison-Wittenberg fray has a bearing on the championships.

Denison is rated a top-heavy favorite to roll at will over the Lutherans to rack up its first unbeaten season in 59 years and to wrap up both the Ohio Conference and state-wide mythical titles.

The Big Red, with eight in a row, is the only Ohio college with a clean slate, Miami's mighty Redskins clinging in there as a close second with only one tie in eight starts marring the record. Wittenberg has won four and lost four against weaker opponents than Denison has played.

Denison has piled a total of 262 points to 48 for the opposition, while Wittenberg has counted only 92 while the foe was getting 125.

Ohio State brings its worst season since 1897 to a close against Michigan at Ann Arbor, and there's nothing in sight for the Bucks except another defeat to tack onto the 28-7 setback suffered Saturday at the hands of Illinois.

Ohio teams this year have played 98 games against out-of-state foes, the Buckeye squads winning 50, losing 40 and tying eight. Eight of this weekend's games are interstate affairs.

The weekend schedule:

Friday Night — Kent State at Youngstown.

Saturday — Baldwin-Wallace at Oklahoma City U.; Bowling Green at William and Mary (Williamsburg, Va.); John Carroll at Akron; Butler at Cincinnati, St. Bonaventure at Dayton, Wittenberg at Denison, Wooster at Mount Union, Ohio Wesleyan at Oberlin, Ohio State at Michigan, Xavier at Ohio University, Toledo at Canisius (Buffalo, N. Y.); Otterbein at Rollins (Orlando, Fla.); and West Virginia State at Wilberforce State.

Four Thanksgiving Day games, and an Ohio Wesleyan-Rollins game Nov. 28, wind up the schedule.

NO HOPE FOR BUCKS AGAINST MICHIGAN

Fans Fear Repeat of Last Year's Defeat.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 17—Ohio State university's hapless Buckeyes wind up the 1947 football campaign Saturday and even the most diehard fan has no hopes that it will be a blaze of glory.

The Bucks, facing their leanest season since 1897, tangle with unbeaten, untied and Rose Bowl-bound Michigan at Ann Arbor. Against the Wolverines' spotless record Ohio State has won only two games, tied one and dropped five.

In fact, the Bucks, Coach Wesley E. Fesler and Ohio fans will be "giving with the cheers" if State manages to better their performance in last year's game with bitter-rival Michigan which the Wolves won, 58-6.

Off their showing against Illinois last weekend, Ohio State might give the mighty Wolverines a sharp tussle. The Illini won, 28-7, but the game was much closer than that. Going into the final period it was 14-7, and Ohio had outplayed Illinois the entire third quarter.

Then Perry Moss faded back, flipped a 30-yard pass to Chick Maggioli. Buckeye Jim Clark appeared in position to bat the ball down, but he slipped on the rain-soaked turf, and Maggioli went over for the score.

Later Paul Paterson, Illinois' Negro scatback, broke loose on a 32-yard touchdown run.

Fesler termed the Buckeyes' performance the "best of the season."

However, the Bucks came out of the game with their backfield situation further complicated by injuries. Rod Swinehart, the left halfback replacement for injured Bob Brugge, bruised his thigh and trainer Eddie Biggs said it "may be just enough to keep him from playing against Michigan."

Fullback Joe Whisler, right half Dean Sensanbaugher, Pete Perini, the punting mainstay, and Sensanbaugher's replacement, Alex Verdova, along with Brugge, also are slowed by injuries. Perini had last-minute approval from the team physician to kick and play defensive fullback against Illinois. Sensanbaugher and Brugge also saw limited action.

Fesler hadn't decided whether to "risk" a scrimmage this week. He was anxious for some contact work—the Bucks didn't have any last week—but afraid of the danger of more injuries.

O.S.L. BASEBALL LOOP CHOOSES NEW NAME

To Be Called Ohio-Indiana League Next Year.

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, O, Nov. 17—The eight-team Ohio State Baseball league will be known as the Ohio-Indiana league next season.

League directors voted to change the name during the annual fall meeting yesterday because two Indiana cities, Richmond and Muncie, are members.

Judge W. Dexter Hazen of Marion elected to a two-year term as vice president, succeeding Robert Ireland of Springfield. A 140-game schedule from April 27 to Sept. 12; reduction of the player limit from 19 to 17, and agreement to hold the annual All-Star game July 27 in the home park of the team leading the league July 4, also were approved.

No action was taken on the Dayton franchise. Dayton plans to complete in the new class A Central league, but does not intend to relinquish its present franchise until it is certain the Central will operate.

O.W.U. Cagers To Give Demonstration Tonight

The Ohio Wesleyan university basketball team will give a demonstration at the Marion county cage clinic tonight in the Pleasant Township school gym.

Bishop Coach Bob Strimer and 10 squad members will demonstrate offensive and defensive setups at 9 p. m. The program will begin an hour earlier with Robert Harmon, Upper Sandusky basketball official, giving a talk and holding a question-and-answer period on rules interpretation.

The Battling Bishops are led by Chuck Buttermore, All-Ohio guard who last year broke Wesleyan's scoring mark with 340 points. The Wesleyan cagers won 18 and lost nine in Coach's Strimer's first season at the helm. Only Clint Stevenson, last year's captain, will be lost for this year from the 1946-1947 starting five.

MICHIGAN'S MIGHTY FOOTBALLERS made it clear they'll represent the Big Nine in the Rose Bowl by trouncing the runner-up Badgers at Randall Field, 40-6. Figuring, as always, in the scoring was Michigan's "Bump" Elliot, shown above as he ground out yardage in the third quarter. (International Soundphoto.)

Ambitious Canton McKinley Wants Chunk of Grid Fame

By International News Service

The ambitious young gridders of Canton McKinley High school were working up a well-documented claim today to a share of 1947 state schoolboy honors.

McKinley, its record marred by a one-point defeat by Canton Lincoln, probably will have to be satisfied with runner-up honors behind unbeaten and untied Barberton.

While the Magics sit around, however, after early completion of their season, the Bulldogs remain on the rampage. They walloped Lakewood, 20-6, Saturday for their eighth victory in nine games.

This week, McKinley plays its traditional game with Massillon renewing what is probably the outstanding schoolboy classic in the state. Massillon prepped up for the big event with its sixth victory in nine starts, a 21-0 trouncing of Akron St. Vincent Saturday.

Cathedral Latin and Rhodes qualified for Cleveland's annual charity game this week. Latin whipped John Adams, 13-6, for its eighth victory against one loss. Rhodes, which scored a mild upset in spilling Holy Name, 18-6, has lost one and tied one.

Three teams fell from the unbeaten ranks last weekend, and another had its record sullied by a tie. A long winning streak ended for Salem, 7-0 at Lisbon, and for Troy, 40-6 at Piqua. Both winners finished their campaigns with perfect marks.

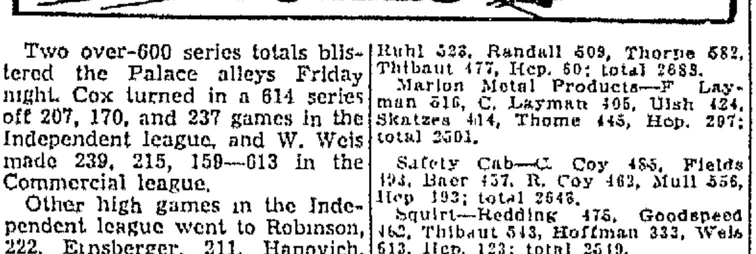
Hamilton spilled once-tied Middletown from the undefeated list with a 14-0 decision in this year's chapter of that age-old rivalry. Hamilton wound up with a nine-and-one record.

Unbeaten Conneaut was held to a seven-all tie by Ashtabula Harbor.

Columbus West enjoyed a happier fate, bowling over Jackson, 52-0, for its tenth straight success. Warren, another member of last week's high school "big ten," romped past Akron South, 40-0.

Toledo Waite registered a 20-12 win over Austin High of El Paso, Tex., in a game in the Lone Star state's Sun Bowl.

In addition to the Hamilton-Middletown fracas, some of the results of traditional rivalries were: Lima South 18, Lima Central 6; Dover 13, New Philadelphia 6; Portsmouth 19, Ironton 6, and Steubenville 64, Steubenville Central Catholic 6.



Two over-600 series totals blistered the Palace alleys Friday night. Cox turned in a 614 series off 207, 170, and 237 games in the Independent league, and W. Weis made 239, 215, 159—613 in the Commercial league.

Other high games in the Independent league went to Robinson, 222, Ernsberger, 211, Hanovich, 210, Chapman, 206, Gilmore, 202, and Gibbs, 201.

Other highs in the Commercial loop were turned in by Thorpe, 233, Stephenson, 213, Ruhl, 214, Augenstein, 209, and Mull, 202.

The Mom and Pop and the City leagues bowled on the Marion Rec alleys.

Hogan Wants "Smear" Aired in P.G.A. Meeting

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 17—The Professional Golfers association today opened a dissension-torn annual meeting in which Ben Hogan demands a thorough airing of an alleged "smear campaign" against president Ed Dudley and Vic Ghezzi faces possible expulsion for a blast at the method of Ryder Cup selections.

Hogan is determined—with a strong hint of throwing a punch or two in righteous indignation—to get a showdown on "utterly false accusations that:

1. He lined up with Dick Metz and Horton Smith in a faction which seeks to oust Dudley as president and is booming Smith for the post in the annual election scheduled tomorrow. Dudley has been PGA president for five years.

2. He was burned up when "retired" Byron Nelson, his former Texas golfing buddy, was named on the Ryder Cup team which trounced Britain at Portland, Ore., Nov. 2-3.

Harding Prexies Watch Denison Take Bishops

Most of the Harding High school football team were among the 7,500 fans who watched Denison's Big Red extend their winning streak to eight straight by defeating Ohio Wesleyan, 18-6, in a High School day game at Delaware Saturday.

By virtue of the win, Denison clinched the Ohio Conference championship. They meet an easy Wittenberg next week.

It was Denison all the way as they outplayed and outpassed a Bishop eleven that just couldn't get started.

Denison put up serious scoring threats in each period of the game, while the only time Wesleyan threatened, in addition to its lone touchdown, was late in the third period when the Bishops, sparked by a 12-yard run by Bob Chapple, moved to the Denison 25

Gerry Gaynor scored the first tally for Denison on an end sweep from the Bishop nine. A 13-yard run through center by Bill Fleitz set up the second Denison score which came on a pass from Gaynor to Bill Hart who went over from five.

Denison's third, and final touchdown was scored in the third period on a 24-yard end sweep by Ed Rupp.

Wesleyan scored on a pass from Chapple to Don Robinson who went over from the six.

No extra points were scored in the game, attempted conversions by Denison's Bob Phillips and Wesleyan's Don Boothe fell short.

Walt Williams of the Chicago Rockets gained 148 yards on two interceptions of New York Yankee passes last year to establish two All America Football Conference records—most yardage on pass interceptions during the season and a single game.

BROWNS TAKE 49ERS 37-14; CLAIM TITLE

Graham Chucks 3 TD Passes to Lavelli.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 17 — The Cleveland Browns today were headed for their second straight All-America Football Conference championship playoff and Coach Paul Brown, the perfectionist, finally was satisfied with the performance of his club.

Brown, who usually chews his fingers down to the second knuckle during a game, relaxed completely yesterday after his Browns swamped the San Francisco Forty-Niners, 37-14, to wrap up the loop's western division title.

"I thought Otto Graham had one of his best days and the whole team played great ball," Brown said.

Graham established a new conference record for total touchdown passes during a season by hurling three payoff aerials to Dante Lavelli. The three boosted his season total to 18, one better than the previous record he shared with George Ratterman of the Buffalo Bills and Glenn Dobbs of the Los Angeles Dons.

Lavelli's three touchdown catches tied a loop record and also deadlocked him with Alyn Beals of the Forty-Niners for the most touchdown receptions this season. Each has snared eight, two under the league record set by Beals last year.

Graham's game total yesterday was 15 completions out of 24 attempts for a total of 222 yards. His season total now is 1,980 yards.

LA RUE PLANS NEW ATHLETIC FIELD

Special to The Star

LARUE, Nov. 17—Plans for a new high school athletic field with facilities for football, baseball, and softball are under way at LaRue.

The board of education purchased a plot of land last week adjacent to the east side of the present field. The field, formerly owned by Dr. Harry Hoopes and Grover Wall, will add 3.2 acres to the present site.

The board is also contemplating a purchase of three lots on the north side of the school grounds from William Campbell, F. J. Laubis and John Scranton which will add more than acre.

A petition to close an alley between the school and the newly acquired land is also before the village council. This will give the LaRue school at least six acres for use as a playground and athletic field.

Preliminary plans call for the construction of a six-man football gridiron and bleachers in addition to a first class baseball and softball field. Ample space is also provided for several secondary softball fields, tennis courts and an outdoor basketball court.

The LaRue Firemen and the Business Men's association are planning a winter carnival to raise funds for the erection of lighting equipment on the football and softball field.

The board of education has planned to plow the new land this week in preparation for grading and sowing grass next spring.

The football field is expected to be ready for use next year. The softball field, using some of the football lights, is planned for the east side of the gridiron and the baseball diamond will probably be constructed on the west side of the gridiron with the football field serving as the outfield for the ball field.

PROSPECT PRO LOOP TO OPEN WEDNESDAY

The Prospect basketball league opens the season Wednesday evening in the school gym with the Prospect Young Democrats vs. the Young Republicans games scheduled to get under way at 7:30 p. m.

The Prospect All-Stars will meet the Marion Merchants in the second game. Strong man on the Prospect team is Glenn Kessler, former Miami university star and twice Little All-American in basketball.

Odds Against All "Big 4" Gridders Staying Unbeaten

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 17—The odds today were against all of the "big four" of college football—Notre Dame, Michigan, Penn State and Southern Methodist—staying unbeaten and untied for the balance of the campaign.

Last Saturday, for instance, Penn, Georgia Tech and Utah were sent sprawling off the spotless perch.

S. M. U., with eight straight wins, is in the most precarious position of the current list. The Mustangs, who downed Arkansas 14-6 last Saturday, still have to hurdle troublesome Baylor next Saturday and Texas Christian the following week.

The next toughest job confronts Notre Dame, winner of seven games. The Irish, who either took it easy or were hard pressed when they emerged with a 26-19 win over Northwestern Saturday, face a real test in what will be called "the game of the year" when they engage Southern California on Dec. 6. During the interim, Notre Dame will take on oft-subdued Tulane in a breather. The Trojans also are unbeaten although their record is marred by a 7-7 tie with Rice. They have won six.

Michigan and Penn State are almost certain to end the regular campaign undefeated. The Rose bowl-bound Wolverines should make it nine in a row when they meet a deflated Ohio State team in their final game of the season next week. Ditto for Penn State which meets oft-beaten Pittsburgh next Saturday.

Penn and Kansas remain unbeaten although tied among the major elevens. Penn was held to a 7-7 tie by the Army

Kansas squeezed by the Oklahoma Aggies 13-7, coming from behind to win.

Michigan and Penn State scored easy triumphs as the Wolverines smothered Wisconsin 40-6 and Penn State man-handled Navy 20-7.

Alabama handed Georgia Tech his first loss 14-7. Utah was beaten by Idaho 13-6.

Other upsets:

Boston College lost to Tennessee 38-13 for the Vols' first major win; Iowa walloped Minnesota 13-7 only 12 hours after Coach Eddie Anderson had offered to resign; North Carolina State stunned Wake Forest 20-0; Washington State surprised Oregon State 14-13; Oklahoma turned the tables on Missouri 21-12; South Carolina played Duke to a scoreless deadlock, and Harvard knocked off Brown 13-7.

Chicago Bears, L.A. Rams In Bare-Knuckle Fight

By The United Press

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 17—The Chicago Bears professional football team and the Los Angeles Rams turned a football game at Staid Memorial coliseum into a bare-knuckle battlefield yesterday. The Bears won 41-21.

Today, Bob Waterfield, former U.C.L.A. star and husband of movie star Jane Russell, was being examined to determine whether his jaw was broken. Several other players nursed bumps and bruises and even the equipment boy had a shiner.

Things got so rough, the customers were wondering whether there would be enough men left to finish the game.

Five men—three Bears and two Rams—were ejected for unnecessary roughness. Ed Sprinkle of the Bears was accredited with landing the haymaker on Waterfield.

Jack Matheson, 228-pound Chicago end, allegedly punched Buddy Leininger, 100-pound Ram clubhouse boy, as the teams were leaving the field.

Mattheson also invaded the Ram dressing room, where he was felled by Ram Coach Bob Snyder.

Waterfield stayed on the field the entire game after he got popped while throwing a forward pass in the second quarter, but he only did some kicking in the last half.

ANDREW J. MAY OPENS HOME TOWN LAW OFFICE

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17—Former Rep. Andrew J. May, (D) of Kentucky, who is now appealing his conviction on war fraud conspiracy charges, is opening a law office in his home town of Prestonsburg, Ky.

The 72-year-old May, according to reports from Prestonsburg, is "looking better" than at any time since he was found guilty in district court here on accepting $53,000 in bribes to influence contract awards for the Garsson munitions combine.

Attorneys for May and his co-defendants—Dr. Henry and Murray Garsson—said they would meet today's deadline for filing records of the district court trial with the circuit court of appeals.

SEEK SLAYERS OF FORMER POLICE-CHIEF AND WIFE

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 17—The shotgun slayings of a former police chief of suburban Posen and his wife early yesterday have sent the homicide squad into an investigation of reported tavern shakedowns for a possible clue to identity of the gunmen.

Stanley Rzepa, 31, who resigned as the village police head under a court order, and Mrs. Rzepa, 31, were shot from ambush as they arrived home about 5:30 a. m. from their own tavern in Posen.

Wilburn Kennedy, acting chief of the Illinois state police, said "It appears that the killers hid behind the house and fired at Rzepa from close range as he left his automobile. Mrs. Rzepa screamed and she was shot a moment later." Kennedy said that six spent shotgun shells were found at the scene.

Rzepa's resignation as police chief was ordered last month by Criminal Court Judge Daniel A. Roberts after Rzepa pleaded guilty to charges of extorting money from tavern owners and making illegal sales of fireworks.

ZONING MIXUP HALTS BUILDING CONSTRUCTION

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, Nov. 17—With the discovery by a local attorney of an amendment to the village zoning ordinance, approved some ten years ago but apparently "lost" since that time, village council has called a halt to the building of commercial enterprises in residential areas.

The original ordinance defined the "industrial zone" as all territory within 1000 feet of a railroad and the amended ordinance decreased the zone to 100 feet. The owners of two properties here were notified by council to halt construction on their buildings immediately.

EXCEEDS DRIVE QUOTA

UPPER SANDUSKY — Mark Karr, treasurer of the recent 4-H Club State Foundation Drive in Wyandot county has announced that the county has far exceeded its quota of $1,700.00. Collections now total $1,934.66 with more contributions still coming in.

TIES TOO STRONG, RURAL CHURCH SAVED FROM SALE

Special to The Star

KENTON—It was just about all settled. For several years the congregation of the little Ridgeway Church of Christ had made attempts to rejuvenate interest in the church, and failed in each attempt. For two years, no services have been held there. Friday evening a congregational meeting was called to make the formal decision to sell the church property.

However, when the little band of some 20 members met at the home of Forest Levally, in Ridgeway, the church ties proved too strong to break and nobody could bring himself to vote in favor of disposing of the church.

Instead, the group voted unanimously to try again. A board of trustees was elected, plans were made to repair and redecorate the church this winter, and to resume regular services next spring.
